The world of tea under one roof

Our liquid compounds, concentrates and syrups are infused with over 50 years of pioneering experience in the wide field of tea extracts as well as fruit and herbal extracts.

The countless possible combinations of ingredients and finished or semi-finished varieties enable us to offer you the exact solution you were looking for – and your customers a pure and delicious taste of tea.

We extract the true essence from the first-class raw materials we source worldwide, under the supervision of the most experienced tea experts: black teas, green teas, white teas, oolongs, herbal teas and fruit teas.

Liquid Tea Concentrates

A select range of classic tea concentrates represents the liquid alternative to powder extracts for the industrial processing of tea-based RTD beverages.

Beverage Compounds

Our compounds are liquid beverage bases made with tea. They contain a complete set of first-rate ingredients such as tea extracts, flavours, acidic components, fruit concentrates, sugar etc. All one has to do is to dilute the mix with water before bottling.

To meet your individual wishes, we offer you customised recipes featuring variations on everything from flavour and sweetness to colouring.

Packaging:

- Bulk pack

Tea Syrups

Finished tea syrups used for beverage servings offer a real indulgence to customers of food service stations – either cold as in ice tea or hot as in chai – to name just two of the many applications.

Create your distinctive recipe with us to determine the flavour, sweetness and colour of your individual product.
